

CHAPTER 10 – ARTS, HUMANITIES AND EDUCATION

Women again earn more of the degrees awarded in education, regardless of degree level as shown in the accompanying chart. This has been true for over 30 years at the bachelor's and master's level, and since 1983 at the doctorate level. In 2000, women earned 75.8% of the bachelor's, 76.4% of the master's and 64.6% of the PhDs awarded.
